

Template:Template_doc_page_viewed_directly

This is a documentation subpage for Template:Template doc page viewed directly (see that page for the template itself).

It contains usage information, categories and other content that is not part of the original template page.

[create]

Template documentation